

Registration Notes

March 2001

There are four sections to the Stud Book. A, B, C & P

Section A:

To be eligible for registration in Section A,

- 1) both parents must be registered in Section A or B.
- 2) Dogs must be named with a registered prefix.

Section B:

To be eligible for registration in Section B,

- 1) dogs may be by unregistered parents but be obviously of Koolie origin.
- 2) one parent registered in section A or B but the other not registered, but obviously Koolie.
- 3) one parent registered in section A or B but the other is registered in Section C.

Note: a clear photo taken side on, must be supplied with all adult registration applications for Section B.

Section C:

To be eligible for registration in Section C,

- 1) dogs may show strong Koolie influence but be known to have or obviously have a parent of another breed of working dog.
- 2) one parent registered in Section A or B and one parent of another working breed.

Note:

A photo must be supplied with all registration applications for Section C. In the case of the registrar not being of the opinion there is enough Koolie influence in the dog the application will be referred to the president of the club for adjudication. In the event that the application is turned down by the registrar and the president the breeder may appeal the decision to the full committee at the next meeting, either presenting the dog in question or a request in writing with a clear photo both front on and the side of the dog, for a majority vote. The decision of the committee is final.

Section P:

For dogs registered as pets only. This section is for use at the discretion of breeders. As a breed we have a genetic problem with deafness and blindness, sometimes a puppy arrives that is not the ideal breeding prospect but would make a good pet, working, agility or obedience dog. By registering in Section P the puppy can be sold to people who want to participate in the club and its activities but have no plans to breed from their dog. Any dog registered in Section P will not be eligible to have offspring registered from it. A registration certificate with full pedigree details will be provided. It is anticipated most of these dogs would have large amounts of white, around the head in particular and little or no dark colouring as these appear to be the dogs likely to breed blindness and deafness. You must explain to your buyer what Section P registration means.

Dogs registered in Section B, C or P which are not going to be bred or are de-sexed can be registered with the owners surname as it prefix.

Any dogs names supplied as historical information as parents, grand parents etc. but not known to be registered dogs will be entered as ancestors in the studbook with the owners surname as prefix.

ie. Jones Spot, Thompsons Jess.

Dogs can only be registered in the name of a current member of the Koolie Club of Australia.

When dogs are sold to non-members, notify the registrar by forwarding a registration application, or transfer form with the original certificate. The new owner will be sent an invitation to join the club to affect the registration, if they choose not to join the club registration will remain in the breeders name.
